Medistri Joins Swiss Medtech: Strengthening Our Role in the Swiss MedTech Sector

February 23rd 2026

Medistri is pleased to announce its official membership in Swiss Medtech, the leading association representing the Swiss MedTech industry. This membership marks an important step in strengthening Medistri's active participation within the Swiss healthcare and MedTech ecosystem.

Strengthening Our Position in the Swiss MedTech Landscape

Swiss Medtech represents companies across the entire MedTech value chain in Switzerland, from innovation and development to manufacturing, regulatory strategy, and market access.

By joining this network, Medistri reinforces its long-term commitment to:

- Supporting medical device manufacturers with compliant infrastructure.
- Contributing to industry dialogue and regulatory evolution.
- Remaining closely aligned with Swiss and European regulatory developments.
- Strengthening collaboration within the national healthcare ecosystem.

As a Swiss-based infrastructure partner operating across Switzerland and Hungary, Medistri provides integrated services including sterilization, laboratory testing, packaging validation, manufacturing, logistics and regulatory support. Active engagement within Swiss Medtech further enhances our ability to anticipate industry needs and evolving compliance requirements.

About Swiss Medtech

Swiss Medtech is the association of the Swiss medical technology industry. It represents companies of all sizes and supports favorable regulatory, political, and economic conditions for the MedTech sector in Switzerland.

We thank Swiss Medtech for welcoming Medistri into the association and look forward to contributing to the ongoing development of Switzerland's MedTech sector.

A Shared Commitment to Healthcare Innovation

Switzerland remains one of the world's most dynamic hubs for MedTech innovation. Participation in Swiss Medtech enables Medistri to:

- Engage with industry peers and policymakers
- Contribute to discussions shaping regulatory and quality frameworks
- Support sustainable growth within the Swiss MedTech sector

This membership supports Medistri's continued engagement in the Swiss MedTech environment in which healthcare manufacturers develop, scale, and operate.
